

Graeme Anderson's (DEPI) list of useful links;

- www.depi.vic.gov.au/climaterisk
- BoM ENSO Wrap-up updates on El nino and what the Pacific and Indian Oceans are up to. It's important to know when and how your region is impacted, as this varies around the country <http://www.bom.gov.au/climate/enso/>
- Where's the rain expected for the next 7 days? <http://www.bom.gov.au/jsp/watl/rainfall/pme.jsp>
- The next 7 days (model forecast) - just hit the play button and see what the next week might play out <http://www.bom.gov.au/australia/charts/viewer/index.shtml>
- The BoM have just updated their seasonal outlooks, which now have a monthly video snapshot as well as 1 to 3 months outlooks for rainfall and temperatures <http://www.bom.gov.au/climate/ahead/>
- CliMate app - useful tool to look up your local long term rainfall data and then ask questions to see how often do we get good autumn breaks in April <http://www.australianclimate.net.au>
- Soil moisture - upper and lower soil moisture levels <http://www.eoc.csiro.au/awap/>
- DEPI Victoria's "The Break" e-news/youtube is free to subscribe to and producers can get the latest commentary from Dale Grey <http://www.depi.vic.gov.au/agriculture-and-food/farm-management/newsletters-and-updates/the-break,-the-fast-break-and-the-very-fast-break-newsletters>
- DEPI - Milking the weather – climate updates for dairy <http://www.depi.vic.gov.au/agriculture-and-food/dairy/news-events-and-webinars/dairy-newsletters/milking-the-weather>
- DEPI ClimateDogs – animations about our key climate drivers <http://www.depi.vic.gov.au/agriculture-and-food/farm-management/weather-and-climate/understanding-weather-and-climate/the-climatedogs-the-four-drivers-that-influence-victoriaas-climate>