The Southern Gippsland Sustainability Festival is an event that focuses on sustainable living options in Southern Gippsland (Bass Coast & South Gippsland Shires).

The event alternates between South Gippsland and Bass Coast Shires. This year’s event will be held in the front car park of Korumburra’s Coal Creek Community Park and Museum.

The Festival is now in its seventh year, with exhibitors demonstrating alternative energy, local produce, self-sufficiency skills and a range of sustainable products.

The Festival aims to showcase a range of exhibitors and eco friendly products, provide practical information, down-to-earth demonstrations and speakers. These provide practical skills for residents and visitors to use daily at home, work and in their community.

Local entertainment and children’s activities mean that the day is not just about learning, but is also about fun. Media advertising for the 2016 event will include TV, local and state-wide newspaper advertising as well as online promotion.

If you have an interest in supporting sustainable living, then the South Gippsland Sustainability Festival is the place for you.

Sharon from Gippy Bees

gippsland Renewable Energy & technology (gREat)

"We are extremely passionate about Renewable Energy, and the Southern Gippsland Sustainability Festival gives us the opportunity of meeting likeminded people looking for a greater knowledge of all things sustainable. The festival gave our business new opportunities and exposure, resulting in high quality sales opportunities. On a business level, the effort and return on investment was very worthwhile."

Len and Lynne McGrath - Directors of gREat
